Manager Hanlon had every one of his players out on the diamond practising long before the hour announced for the game to begin, and the Superbas were certainly a speedy lot when once they began warming up.

The task of selecting a twirler to pitch against the Bostons was a hard one for Foxy Hanlon. Hughes, Newton and Kitson were all in good shope to push, but looking at his trio of artists go through their preliminary warming-up. Hanlon finally selected Jimmy Hughes to fill the bill.

The visitors depended on Eason to do the twirling for them. Umpire Cantillon, who was to have assisted Umpire Powers in to-day's game, will probably not officiate again for ten days, as his Brooking ... 25 545 St. Louis ... 32 41 448 Brooking ... 25 545 St. Louis ... 32 41 448
